Cabinet Crisis In Britain Is Now Delayed

Attlee Temporarily Gains Stopgap Stay; Another Resignation

By MILTON KAPLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 24—Prime Minister Attlee achieved a temporary stopgap settlement of his government crisis today but lost another junior minister in a battle over defense expenditures and social service cuts.

Latest To Resign

Government sources said the latest to resign is John Freeman, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of supply.

He is a close associate of former labor minister Aneurin Bevan, whose resignation on Sunday precipitated the present crisis.

Attlee succeeded in closing the widening breach between moderate and left-wing elements at a hastily-called meeting of the parliamentary Labor party but there were indications a new showdown may not be far off.

At a crowded, 90-minute emergency meeting of parliamentary leaders of the party it was decided that a united front would be presented at least for the present to prevent any further attempts of the conservatives to topple the socialists from power.

Communique Issued

An official party communique after the meeting stated:

"There was a full and frank discussion of the recent resignations from the government. All speakers emphasized their loyalty to the Labor party and the need for preserving the closest unity within the movement."

Some night plowing is going on in the district, Pa. News learns, as district farmers make up for lost time. With so many wet days, the agriculturalists get behind in their spring work and are now making up for lost time. Headlights on tractors and floodlights have been placed in operation to assist in the work.

Safety first should be in the mind of every car and truck operator these days as traffic increases and more pedestrians are out on the streets. Several local firms have safety contests in progress to keep their operators safety conscious. Awards are made periodically to the safest drivers.

Sound of the beating of rugs is reverberating throughout the city as local housewives pursue their task of getting the spring house-cleaning done. Most of the rug beating is relegated to the male members of the home upon their arrival from the office or shop. Some housewives confess they haven't gotten around to starting their cleaning yet.

Mystery Blast Causes Heavy Weinschenk Greenhouse Damage

This general view shows the extent of the damage done to the world's largest greenhouse that of the W. H. Weinschenk Sons, Inc., as vandals set off a charge of dynamite there Monday night. The greenhouse covers acres of tomatoes now being harvested and is located on Pennsylvania avenue extension at Savannah, in Shenango township. Damage to the building has been estimated at near $1,250.

Police Officers Hunt Vandals In Dynamiting

Police today were searching for persons who last night are believed to have robbed the Vanport Stone company of a quantity of dynamite, and later attached a cap and fuse, then hurled one and possibly two sticks, at the W. H. Weinschenk Sons, Inc., greenhouse, the largest under one roof in the world. The explosion blasted about 450 panes of glass, which to replace will cost at least $1,250. The greenhouse is located along the Savannah road, Shenango township.

According to reports, this explosion occurred at 11:20 p.m. However, there were previous blasts, although not of the same strength as that which wrecked an entire end of the Weinschenk greenhouse.

Two other explosions were also reported, the first about nine p.m., and the other at 11:55 p.m. However, the location of these blasts have not definitely been established.

Much Glass Broken

The dynamite which was hurled at the Weinschenk structure, hit the ground within a few feet of the glass structure. The shock caused a shattering of hundreds of windows at one end of the building. It is in this building tomatoes are raised. The possible loss on the crop has not as yet been estimated.

The detonation was heard for considerable distance from the greenhouse. A fireman, who was (Continued on Page Two)

Regulation To Affect 75,000 Manufacturers

Office Of Price Stabilization Will Issue Order Tonight

By FREEMAN FULBRIGHT
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24—The office of price stabilization issues tonight a regulation allowing an estimated 75,000 manufacturers new ceiling prices affecting most of the items sold in retail stores. The order will largely be a roll-back regulation. It will be the most far-reaching regulation since the general price freeze announced last January 26.

In essence it will allow manufacturers to add to their pre-Korean selling prices portions of materials and labor cost increases since last June.

Violations Uncovered

OPS enforcement director Edward P. Morgan disclosed, meanwhile, that "many" violations of meat and scrap steel regulations have been uncovered in a six-city investigation.

Morgan said he has not learned the total number of violations but (Continued on Page Two)

Dr. J. Paul Graham, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association, announced today that all churches of New Castle, will operate, Sunday, April 29, on Daylight Savings Time.

The change will be made along with the rest of the nation, when clocks will be turned ahead one hour before retiring on Saturday night. The old schedule of Eastern Standard Time will be resumed in September, when the change is made again.

"Little confusion should exist in the churches next Sunday," Dr. Graham stated, "if residents turn their clocks ahead Saturday evening and are prepared to start to Sunday school on the new schedule." (Continued on Page Two)

Seek To Iron Out Differences On Draft Bills

House And Senate Conferees To Start Move For Agreement

WASHINGTON, April 24—(INS) House and senate conferees start today ironing out differences in draft bills passed by both chambers. Universal military training is the biggest threat to an agreement.

Conferees said privately they do not expect too much trouble settling the age issue. The house voted to induct youths at 18½ while the senate approved lowering the draft age to 18. The minimum induction age is now 19.

Deadlock Could Develop

However, both sides cautioned that a deadlock could develop on the age question.

Sen. Russell and Rep. Vinson, both Georgia Democrats and chairmen of the armed services committees of the two houses, head the conference.

Conferees are expected to seek some form of a compromise on UMT, which the house accepted originally only after watering down the administration's recommendations.

Under the house bill, UMT would never go into effect until congress passed another bill. The house legislation merely calls for a five-man civilian commission to submit some form of UMT to congress for approval.

The senate bill, on the other hand, authorizes UMT for the first time in the nation's history.

UMT would go into effect under the senate legislation whenever the present emergency has eased so that men under 19 would not be needed for military service. They would be inducted for training only. It would last from four to six months.

Other Differences

Other major differences to be adjusted:

1. The senate voted a 24-month draft hitch and the house a 26-month term. Draftees now serve 21 months.

2. The senate put a four million man ceiling on the size of the arm- (Continued on Page Two)

Flood Battle Is Still Waged On Mississippi

(By International News Service)
A half-inch of levee today was all that protected the tiny Iowa town of Sabula from the worst Mississippi river flood crest in 70 years and work crews labored desperately to reinforce a weakening dike that held a 12-foot wall of water from crashing down on the village.

Volunteers worked round the clock hauling sandbags to plug sporadic leaks and heighten the levee in a grim race with the rising waters.

Fire sirens were set up at strategic spots to warn some 800 residents of any major breaks in the dike. Emergency crews stood by to complete evacuation of families still in the danger area—one-third of the low-lying town.

Flood workers reported that the raging Mississippi had leveled— (Continued on Page Two)

Red Drive In Korea Halts All Peace Efforts

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 24—United Nations diplomats anxious about the huge offensive touched off by the Chinese Communist armies in Korea were given reassuring answers today by military experts closely in touch with the unified command.

Although confidential reports to U.N. from the Korean battlefield are still fragmentary, top military opinion in the non-Communist levels at Lake Success is that the massed fire power and seasoned troops of 14 nations opposing the Chinese will shatter Mao Tse-tung's all-out offensive.

Can Be Confident

"We can be very confident," a ranking western military representative told the diplomats. "The U.N. forces in Korea are not over-extended, we have air mastery and previously prepared defense lines will enable us to make the utmost use of superior firepower."

Lt. Gen. Ridgway Says Battle In Progress May Prove Decisive

By LEE FERRERO
(I. N. S. War Correspondent)

TOKYO, April 24—Red hordes cut the vital Seoul-Chunchon road some 12 miles below Parallel 38 in west-central Korea late today and overran the eastern hub of Inje, pushing Allied troops into new retreats all along the front.

As fierce fighting raged across most of the peninsula, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who replaced Gen. Douglas MacArthur as United Nations supreme commander, flew to Korea and returned Tuesday night to Tokyo where he declared:

"The battle that has been joined may well prove decisive."

Referring to the giant Red offensive, Ridgway said:

Major Effort of Reds

"It appears that this attack is a major effort of the Communist enemy to drive the United Nations forces out of Korea or destroy them, regardless of the further destruction of his own troops and the continued criminal devastation of Korea."

Ridgway toured the battle zones in a light plane with Lt. Gen. James Van Fleet, his successor as chief of the U.S. Eighth Army's international ground forces. The new U.N. top commander told front correspondents:

"The war is in competent hands. Van Fleet and I are fully confident in the ability and determination of the United Nations forces—ground, air and sea."

Suspected Of Seizing
Wallet From Local Man

Joseph Hufnagel, Orwell Way, Bloomfield, Pittsburgh, was captured by Bus Operator John Tartler, Addis street, after Hufnagel allegedly lifted the wallet of 89-year-old J. L. Bradley of 517 Mercer street, as Bradley got off a Croton bus, preparatory to entering a Butler avenue bus.

According to police, Mr. Bradley got on the Croton bus. He believed it to be the Butler avenue bus and was so informed of his error by the bus operator.

As he left the Croton bus, Mr. Bradley was jostled by two men and Tartler told police Mr. Bradley had his wallet in his hand and one of the men seized it.

Tartler chased the men west in West Washington street. The man who had the wallet reportedly switched it to his companion who escaped. However, Tartler caught Hufnagel.

He took Hufnagel to the police call box at Washington and Mill street and placed him into custody of Police Captain W. G. McMullen and T. Williams who locked him up.

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna said today that information would be sworn against Hufnagel, charging him with robbery.

The important party caucus, according to a labor source, overwhelmingly approved the budget as presented by chancellor of the exchequer Hugh Gaitskell which Bevan objected to.

at work in the boiler room also heard the blast, but did not investigate at once.

Later, the fireman noticed the temperature was going down in the greenhouse, investigated and found that many windows had been demolished, most of them falling inside the building.

According to theory, the dynamite depredation may have been caused by vandals bent on destruction, who hurled the dynamite out of a speeding car at different locations. This theory was developed by the fact that some months ago large plateglass windows in various business houses throughout the city were broken by metal pellets fired from air-powered rifles.

The vandals were never captured although Mayor John F. Haven caused a one-night road block which resulted in every car on the road and occupants being examined by police and deputies.

From the time of the first blast at nine p.m. telephones at city police headquarters, State police and the sheriff's office rang often, persons fearing that a major catastrophe had occurred.

Some auto price violations also were discovered, Morgan said. Teams of enforcement agents were sent last week to Chicago, Kansas City, Houston and Dallas, Tex., Omaha, Neb., Columbus, Ohio, and some areas of New Jersey to check reported violations of food, auto, and scrap regulations. Morgan said irregularities also were uncovered in Miami.

Thousands More Affected
Additional thousands of manufacturers will be affected by regulations covering machinery, cotton textiles, and apparel to be issued within a few days after the overall manufacturers' order.

OPS officials also plan to issue this week, perhaps Thursday, regulations setting ceilings on beef from feed pen to meat counter.

The general manufacturers order will cover products which have not been handled by previous regulations, such as fats and oils, hides, coal, shortening and salad oils, soap, cotton, wool yarns and fabrics, tallow and grease, petroleum, cottonseed oil, iron and steel scrap, autos, dry goods and groceries.

Paper Weight Falls Out Of Window; Fatally Injures Man

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—Mario Riccobono, 47, a blind man who was struck by a falling paper weight during New York's reception parade for Gen. MacArthur, died today.

Riccobono died of multiple skull fractures received when the two and a half pound paper weight fell from the 19th floor of the Woolworth building during the downpour of "ticktape" in MacArthur's honor. He did not regain consciousness.

Two young women employees of a firm on the 19th floor told police they accidentally dropped the paper weight when it became entangled in a pile of torn paper and confetti.

By-products of coal range from life-saving drugs to butter and dyes and perfumes.

WILL PRESENT PLAY AT CHURCH LUNCHEON

Miss Mary Jane Nord, local policeman's conviction that juvenile delinquency grows out of parental delinquency, will be given a dramatic background at a "daffodil" luncheon Thursday afternoon in the First Methodist church.

Sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, the luncheon will be enjoyed at 1 o'clock.

The appropriate background for Miss Nord's talk will be the presentation of a one-act play, "Indictment," written and directed by Mrs. C. R. Brenner, chairman of the program committee of the luncheon.

"Indictment" won first prize in a contest conducted by the literary division of the Federation of Women's clubs. It received second prize for the Pennsylvania entry in the national contest of the Federation of Women's clubs.

In referring to the play, Judge Anna Case, national chairman of Youth Conservation program, stated that it has been used often nationwide, in connection with youth conservation programs.

Local participants in the play will be Marjorie Sheppard as the teenager, Susan White as the young mother, Mrs. J. Wesley Post as grandmother and Mrs. Riley Ballard as the policeman.

Special music is being arranged to accompany the one-act play.

KRASINSKI-HANNON BEAUTIFUL RITE

Distinctive and charming was the white Chantilly lace gown worn over satin chosen by Miss Mariou Krasinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Krasinski, North Liberty street, for her marriage to Thomas W. Hannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hannon, West Washington street, at a mid-morning ceremony on April 21.

Bouquets of white gladioli and pink and white snapdragons embellished the altar of St. Margaret's church for the occasion. Rev. Fr. John O'Rourke performed the double ring ceremony and heard the young couple exchange their vows at 10 a. m. before a host of friends and relatives.

Miss Krasinski was escorted to the altar and presented in marriage by her father. Designed with a high, round neckline, long fitted sleeves, the bride's gown was very becoming. Tiny buttons extended from the neck to the waistline in back, and a cathedral train featured the full skirt of the costume. Her fingertip veil, trimmed in matching Chantilly lace, was held by a crown of tiny seed pearls. She wore a strand of pearls as her only jewelry, and observed the something old, new, borrowed and blue tradition. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies with streamers of snapdragons to complete the picture.

Mrs. Betty Jean Yoho, as matron of honor, wore a gown of orchid and gray. It was styled with a strapless bodice and tiny bolero. Yellow roses with orchid streamers made up her fan-shaped bouquet.

Bridesmaids included Miss Betty Hannon, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Dorothy Magusak. Each was attired in a yellow organza gown fashioned like that worn by the matron of honor. Their fan-shaped bouquets were composed of yellow roses with yellow streamers. The attendants wore matching headbands and pearls, gifts from the bride.

Walter Hannon served his brother as best man, while the ushers were Jim Logan and Jim Laughlin. Dinner was served to forty guests at the Hotel New Penn at noon, with the evening reception held from 7:30 to 12 o'clock at the Knights of Pulaski hall.

The young couple later departed for a honeymoon to Florida, and will reside in their newly furnished home on the New Castle-Ellwood road upon their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannon are graduates of the New Castle senior high school. The bride is employed as a decorator at the Shenango Pottery Company, while the groom is employed at the Fischler Plumbing Company.

NEED NATIONAL HOUSECLEANING

We need a housecleaning in the Washington administrative agencies. The nation is shocked by the elemental failure in public morality, as revealed in recent investigations by Congress. In some departments we find an infiltration by Communists, fellow travelers and international party-liners. In other departments we find corruption. A third investigation traces the tentacles of crime and racketeering in and out of local government in many states.

These revelations have dismayed and disheartened the American people. Americans are accustomed to looking to their government for moral leadership. No man could do a greater disservice to America than to undermine the confidence of our people in the integrity and fidelity of public service.

Congressman Joseph Martin of Massachusetts says: "The Republican party is the only possible vehicle for national salvation. Our first need is a firm grasp on the fundamentals of our American heritage, and a strong reassertion of those fundamentals in every department of government."

"We seek to unite the American people behind a strong program of vibrant, forward-looking Americanism—an administration which knows where it is going, and knows how to get things done without the help of five-percenters, expeditors, and influence peddlers."

LETTING GEORGE DO IT

The Treasury Department, which is constantly seeking ways to get other people to do its work, has again asked Congress to pass a law authorizing a withholding tax at the source on corporation dividends and interest payments by banks and other institutions. A somewhat similar proposal was accepted by the House of Representatives last year but defeated by the Senate.

Undeterred by that setback, the treasury has a new plan which goes even further than the one that was rejected. The idea last year was simply to force corporations to collect and withhold 10 per cent of the dividends they paid. This year the ante has been raised to 20 per cent and the law would apply to practically everything except interest paid by one individual to another.

It may be agreed that the government does lose a sizable amount of revenue because some taxpayers fail to report income received from dividends and interest. But that is always the case when taxes become confiscatory and resentment against ruinous taxation grows.

The withholding tax program would impose a tremendous bookkeeping expense on business firms and banks and their profits, now taxed at a high rate, would be reduced as a result. This loss in corporation tax income by the treasury would at least partially offset increased revenue resulting from the withholding tax.

FUTURE OF R.F.C.

Inasmuch as both branches of Congress have approved the president's plan to reorganize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, that outfit has been given a reprieve. But there are hopeful indications that it will not be for long. Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, undeterred by the action of Congress, is pressing a new fight to have the RFC abolished and feels that his chances for success are good.

Senator Byrd bases his optimism on the fact that 41 senators and 200 representatives voted against the reorganization plan. They constituted a majority of those voting, but not the constitutional majority (49 senators and 218 representatives) that is required for the defeat of this type of resolution. The Byrd bill to abolish the RFC needs only a simple majority of those present and voting to insure passage.

In asking for prompt hearings on his measure Senator Byrd stated that he intended to call ex-President Hoover and Jesse Jones, former director of the RFC, as his first witnesses. He could make no better choice.

Mr. Hoover's long-time feeling that the agency has outlived its usefulness was reinforced by the recent revelations of the Fulbright committee. What does Mr. Jones think about the matter? "There is," he said "no integrity left in that agency any more and there's no solution but to close it up and take the public's money out of that sink-hole at the earliest moment."

A Texas rooster has grown a second set of spurs. Probably in hopes the spare pair will jingle, jangle, jingle.

Washington experts estimate it would cost in the neighborhood of $25,000,000 to find a means of converting sea water into fresh water. Maybe, at that, it'd be cheaper to hire a rainmaker!

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, WEYMOUTH GAZETTE: "We need to purge ourselves from some of the social and economic opiates that have slowly poisoned our national blood stream. Then we should set about putting our governmental houses in order."

DUNDEE, NEW YORK, OBSERVER: "Since the abolition of the gold standard in 1933, there has been no easy method of computation, no fixed standard by which to measure the real value of the dollar. Every unnecessary expenditure by the government makes the matter . . . worse. We do not like to admit that our money is worth less than its face value, and so we say that prices have gone up, which indeed they have."

Might Be Big Anti-Red Aid

The existence of a potential anti-Communist international brigade of perhaps 150,000 men, ready to swing into action against any Soviet aggression is the subject of careful study by allied defense chiefs in Europe today.

Little publicity has been given to this group of exiles from the Soviet Union and the satellite nations which has promised immediate co-operation with the North Atlantic treaty organization whenever needed.

"Paper Army"

But it is known nevertheless that the refugees have knitted themselves into a "paper army" of 12 divisions, needing only arms and ammunition to form a powerful segment of western European defense units called into action for any sudden emergency.

The group has its headquarters in Paris, and has been in touch with Supreme Commander Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Its envisioned commander is Lt. Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, former commander-in-chief of the Polish forces which fought with the Allies in the Second World War.

Realistically, he and his followers of all nationalities who have been forced to seek refuge in France, Great Britain and elsewhere, concede that their immediate task would have to be "hit and run" tactics in event of hostilities, simply because available military materiel must go first to Eisenhower's regular establishment.

Of Tremendous Value

There is little question, however, that this "exile army" could be of tremendous value in a crisis.

The vast majority of the unwilling expatriates are past masters in the art of underground warfare. They are wise to all the stratagems. Men of their type took over virtually the entire subway system of Paris one historic day during the Nazi occupation. Strong-armed resistance men—after searching investigations in advance—spotted the Gestapo in plainclothes who supervised every car and kept hidden revolvers into the Nazi ribs.

Meanwhile, others circulated throughout the trains and distributed copies of clandestine newspapers.

At the end of the line the Gestapo men were marched off and up the steps and set loose to report sheepishly back to Nazi headquarters at the Hotel Astoria overlooking the Arch of Triumph where Eisenhower now has his Paris headquarters.

Gen. Anders claims to be able to recruit 82,000 Polish refugees of military age.

In addition to this formidable

Twins in New York he passed me by.
An Englishman beyond a doubt.
His spats and tweed suit caught my eye.
His boots (which I call shoes) were stout.
In England was his "bowler" bought—
Quite positive of that I am.
And as I looked at him I thought
Perhaps he comes from Birmingham.

The skies were fair and yet he bore
A strapped umbrella in his hand.
My father did that years before—
An English trait I understand.
He must have "braisers" on,
'Tis as suspenders we know them.
I wondered as he passed me by,
If he had come from "Brunnenmagen?"

We didn't meet; we never may.
He never turned an eye on me.
But as he hurried on his way
I'm sure an Englishman was he.
I knew he called the bus a "tram."
And so I wondered all that morn.
If he had come from Birmingham,
From Birmingham, where I was born.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Everyone is talking . . . and mostly they are talking about topics they know very little about . . . Sometimes these conversations become rather involved and lead to serious complications . . . like broken friendships . . . to help you from becoming involved it has been suggested that you slip a story into the conversation that might help change the subject. Here are a couple you might try.

"A woman called for jury duty refused to serve because she didn't believe in capital punishment . . . Trying to persuade her, the judge explained: 'This is merely a case where a wife is suing her husband because she gave him $1,000 to pay down on a fur coat and he lost the money in a poker game' . . . I'll serve, the woman said. I could be wrong about capital punishment!"

Or maybe you prefer to make a statement . . . like this one . . . Maybe you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, but many a woman has gotten a mink coat out of an old goat.

Then when you really want to change the subject with a boom . . . especially when the fairer sex are concerned, just say this one right out in a loud voice . . . Hardly any woman reaches the age of 30 without having been asked to marry, at least twice . . . once by her father, once by her mother.

There seems to be some dispute . . . in some circles, concerning this next statement. Personally we can't agree with the implications entirely . . . A man's mother-in-law is a relative, and always on his wife's side.

But we do like this one . . . and expect to keep it in mind next time a purchase is made. It's a wise husband who buys his wife such fine china that she won't trust him to wash and dry the dishes.

Bible Thought

Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.—Psalms 40:5.

CHOICE OF CONVEYANCES!

Thoughts On Spring

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

I quote the Encyclopaedia Britannica, Page 264. Under "Spring" it gives you this information: "The act of springing, or leaping; hence applied in various senses: to the season of the year in which plant life begins to bud and shoot; to a source of water springing or welling up from below the surface of the earth (see Water Supply); or to an elastic or resilient body or contrivance for receiving and imparting mechanical power."

Could Do Better

The Britannica has never asked me to do its article on Spring, but I am quite sure I could do better than the one I have just quoted. The homes they left under pressure may be found in under pressure they may represent another deterrent to Soviet aggression in Europe.

Belongs To The Wives

Spring belongs to wives. The smartest thing a man can do, if he is a husband, is to get away from home once spring arrives. Wives make little or no sense in the spring. All they want to do is to make M. Breadwinner uncomfortable.

Pulled Down All Curtains

She pulled down all the curtains, sprayed the house with a killer that was sold for moths but which would kill a condor in full flight, and told me to move the carpets. I asked her if she were married to a rug man or a newspaperman. No direct answer.

Russia isn't the greatest menace to our economy . . . It's television!

We spent a week with Kefauver, a week with MacArthur, we have two weeks vacation coming and there's one non-productive month shot.

I know one family that has plugged the set into the kitchen range and now lives in the kitchen on a four-hours on, four-hours off basis with lookouts posted on each channel.

This being able to live modern history is great stuff, but no one has figured how the 20-inch screen fits into the cost of living yardstick.

Life was simpler when you could turn on the set and know that it was either Berle or Howdy-Doody. Today it's contemporary history and who can afford to be ill-informed?

But one of the best shows is the Blair House "trouble or nothing" and the Republicans "Just Plain Ill".

But sometimes we envy the old-timers who had to wait for the pony express. They were ignorant, but blissful.

Folks Of Fame

Mary Lewis was born in Hot Springs, Ark., January 7, 1900. She was the prima donna of "Ziegfeld Follies," in 1920-23, then made her grand opera debut in "Faust" in the Vienna Volksoper in 1923. The following year she sang at Monte Carlo and London, was in Paris in 1925, then returned to the United States and appeared in Carnegie Hall. New York. She made her debut with the Metropolitan Opera company as "Mimi" in "La Boheme" and afterwards sang the principal roles in "Thais," "Juliet" in "Romeo and Juliet," "Marguerite" in "Faust," "Lauretta," "Gilda" in "Rigoletto," "Manon," "Giulietta" and "Antonia" in "Tales of Hoffman." She died on December 31, 1941.

You probably know Wallace Beery as one of your favorite former movie actors. He was born in Kansas City, Mo., April 7, 1880. He ran away from home to join a circus and became an elephant trainer. He was first identified in films as a female impersonator, and he was always notable for character roles, in such pictures as "Big House," "Hell Divers," "Tugboat Annie," "The Champ," "Grand Hotel," "The Good Old Soak," "Bad Man of Brimstone," "Stable Mates," "Sergeant Madden," etc. He died in California on April 25, 1949.

State Police Say:

In a complex operation like operating an automobile, fatigue is of considerable importance. We recognize that when we are tired we cannot play games requiring a combination of quick thought and muscular coordination as well as when we are fresh. The competent driver applies this knowledge to his driving and slows down when he is tired. Through reduced speed he compensates for the effect of fatigue.

This business of buying votes through federal and state payroll padding will pay off in the end, but at the cost of one pretty good republic whose struggling citizens sang "The Star Spangled Banner," sat down and did nothing—Clipped.

"In my view, there will be no world war this year. The Russians will not defy the free nations of the world."—Sen. Tom Connally, Texas, Chairman Foreign Relations Committee, April 4, 1951.

Far From Maddening Throng

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24—In the cloisters of the State Department you scarcely hear the thunderings of the MacArthur storm overhead. Yesterday I sat there for the better part of two hours, getting myself a private briefing on foreign policy by two courteous spokesmen. How about a comment on the General's return? No comment. How do you appraise the effects of his return on foreign policy? No comment because his return has no effect whatever on State Department thinking and planning.

That last is quite true. The popular uproar hardly comes to the notice of the policy makers. The dramatic events of the General's home-coming have not reacted on the status quo of opinion in Foggy Bottom, except to solidify that status quo.

Not As Strange As It Seems?

Perhaps all this is not as strange as it seems. The business done by the State Department is government-to-government, not people-to-people. Ideas, rather than events, are the stock in trade. Consequently, officials at the State Department are more than pleased with themselves these days. The government-to-government relations with Britain, France, India and the United Nations have never been more happy. The cheers over MacArthur's ouster, coming from foreign capitals and from Lake Success, seem to endorse the ideas on which the State Department has been operating for more than ten years.

As for the people-to-people reaction, the State Department is not concerned. The tumult of MacArthur's welcome, the whizzing of brickbats toward the White House and the bellowing of power-hungry Republicans are all considered as vulgar street noises, unworthy of State Department notice.

There is more than one way to evaluate this schooled sang-froid which has become a characteristic of our international planners. From one viewpoint it is praiseworthy and professional. Steadfastness of purpose is needed in the handling of world affairs. Diplomats aren't trained to play to the grandstand or to cock an ear for advice from the bleachers.

There's Another Viewpoint

Yet there's another viewpoint. After all, the vox pop of a Democracy is the voice of authority. Sooner or later every policy has to have the okay of the people who pay the money and shed the blood for international decisions. It isn't quite enough for diplomats to strike the attitude of poppa-knows-best. The thinking of Foggy Bottom, in the long run, has to be the thinking of Main Street.

But Main Street, I'm afraid, would have a tough time to follow some of the reasoning I heard yesterday. Secretary Acheson believes, if his spokesmen are correct, that the United States is a sort of latter-day British Empire. Our destiny is to police the world as Britain is alleged to have policed it in the 1814-1914 century. We must be willing to fight a series of small wars—hence the Korean adventure—in order to prevent a big war.

Well, the realists of Main Street aren't about to buy that argument, Britain got rich at the game of world policeman; we are getting poor, Britain found ways of fighting those small wars with non-British soldiers to a considerable extent. We are fighting the UN battles with a 90 per cent American army.

It Isn't Exactly True

Moreover, it isn't exactly true that the period between Napoleon's defeat and the Kaiser's rise was one of peace and tranquility. There were at least two good-sized wars, and Britain stayed out of them both. She did not get caught in the meat grinder of the Franco-Prussian affair. She did not intervene in the American Civil War. British statesmanship, in brief, was shrewd enough to pick its spots. American statesmanship hasn't yet learned that crafty wisdom of self-interest. Maybe that's why it's more popular in London, New Delhi and Lake Success than it is on Main Street. And maybe that's something for the State Department to start thinking about.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Many of you have probably got a nice chuckle out of that story about the banquet given to President Auriol of France at which Trygve Lie got himself into an awful tiff because he had not been seated according to "protocol."

According to reports, he ran all over the place and appealed to everybody, including Grover Whalen, New York's perennial master of ceremonies, because, in his opinion, others not ranking quite as high as he had seats closer to the French President. "Protocol" had been violated, said Mr. Lie.

"Protocol"—one of the silliest institutions Man in his littleness ever invented.

Yet, protocol is a fence hemming in not only officials, but people in all walks of life.

Trygve Lie comes from a small country. His job may be important, but it is not nearly as important as those of many others who at that same banquet, sat at tables much farther away from the dais and the lenses of the photographers than he.

Those inconspicuous men and women who sat quietly wherever they were put, were famous scientists and professional successes, bankers, business leaders and whatnot.

They had more vital things on their minds than their place at the trough.

To them this banquet in honor of President Auriol was not simply an occasion to be seen and perhaps to get a little publicity.

Just what makes people so picaresque?

And why is it that the smaller they are, the more they ARE that way?

Take any public affair in any community. It doesn't matter whether it is the Rotary, the Lions, the Kiwanis.

There will always be squawkers. There will always be fellows who think they have been slighted.

Ask anyone in your own town who has ever had to arrange an affair. And don't think that it is confined to men. From what I hear the women are worse than the men, if that be possible.

To satisfy everybody the whole room would have to be a dais. Everybody would have to be right next to the guest of honor or the principal speaker.

That is, everybody except those who are REALLY important.

What makes a person important? What makes him BIG?

It is the thinking of BIG thoughts, the doing of IMPORTANT things.

If your mind is occupied with big things, you are too busy with them to think of the little ones.

Nobody can be a big and a little man at the same time—any more than a size six hat will fit a size eight head.

However, I am told by haberdashers that there are more size six hats trying to wear size eight hats than vice versa.

Every one of us, I suppose, has his own idea of heaven.

I wonder where those fellows who worry so much about protocol here on earth, imagine they are going to sit in the hereafter.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CREEP

The warden was showing his domain to a prominent lady columnist. They passed through one room where two women were sewing. The columnist whispered, "What are they in for?" The warden froze and replied, "They are here because they have no other home. That is our private parlor, and the females happen to be my wife and mother-in-law."

The late Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, recalls Roscoe Pound, ex-dean of Harvard's law school, was taking his ease in a deck-chair aboard a trans-Atlantic liner one day when a very lovely young lady smiled archly at him and said, "I wish I knew how to address you! Daddy used to speak of you as Governor Hughes. Then I heard people saying Judge Hughes." Now, here on the boat, they refer to you as "Mr. Secretary." Which do you like best?" Mr. Hughes regarded her with a twinkle in his eye, patted a place for her on the edge of his deck chair and said, "Those that love me call me Charlie."

DANCE ETIQUETTE

"What should I do at a dance when this situation occurs?"

The music stops and during intermission my partner and I stand in the middle of the floor talking. Then when the music resumes, I have to go off and leave her because I have another partner for the next dance. It is a dilemma when the discarded partner has not the next dance taken."

Answer: If a man and a woman are standing talking when the music suddenly starts, the man should, out of courtesy to her, ask the woman to dance. He should not go off and leave her standing alone.

If he already has a partner for that dance, as you did, he must either find a partner for the woman with whom he had been talking or take her to a seat among her friends. By no means should he excuse himself and leave her standing unattended, in the middle of the floor. No woman should leave herself in such a position. After she has finished dancing, she should have her partner take her to a "safe" place so that she will not have to endure the embarrassment of being stranded in the middle of nowhere.

Question: I am to have a church wedding and shall wear traveling clothes. What shall I do with my purse and gloves during the ceremony? Shall I hold them in my right hand?

Answer: If you intend to return home before leaving on your trip, you need carry no purse to the church. You may carry a prayer book and wear gloves and at that part of the ceremony wherein the ring will be placed on your finger slip off your left glove, or have the ring finger slit.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 24.—A one-time prominent screen star who turned his back on Hollywood to become a missionary among Nevada's Indians bobbed up in the news this week when he rejected a movie role.

The missionary is Gareth Hughes who retired from the stage and screen limelight at the peak of his career in 1923 to work among the Indians.

He entered pictures in 1919 and co-starred with Clara Kimball Young in a number of silent hits. Later he starred in such memorable pictures as "Sentimental Tommy," "Enemies of Women," "Whirlwind of Youth," and "The Sky Rider."

Brother David Hughes, now 56, recently was asked to consider undertaking the title role in "The Desert Padre," the story of the fight of the late Father John J. Crowley to bring water to California's now fertile Owens valley which once was desert land.

Brother David, as Hughes is now known among his Indian friends around Wadsworth and Winnemucca, Nev., turned down the movie role. He said that he made a vow to devote the rest of his life in Christian work among the Indians.

Hollywood stars from time to time have sent Brother David gifts of money and clothing to help him in his work. Sometimes the movie people visit him in the little church in the Indian settlement.

The movie celebrities say that Brother David teaches school, gives first aid to the ill and injured, and ministers to their spiritual needs.

Never Hollywood

He is always asked if he does not miss the stage and screen. He says that he has missed the stage sometimes, but never Hollywood. Friends in New York send him news of the Broadway hits. He is not even curious about Hollywood. He told director Henry King recently:

"When I was in Hollywood I looked around at some of the other stars and decided to go back to the soil and the soul. I want to spend the rest of my life among the Indians."

Barry Sullivan was signed for the priest role in "Desert Padre" after Brother David passed it up. The picture is to be produced

Water Company Is Criticized

John G. Davis, jr., complained to council in city hall today, stating North Mercer street, north of Glen-Moore avenue, where the Water company has excavated for a water line north and lodged dirt in ditches, resulted in deep, water-filled holes which endangered children's safety.

Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg stated that he had conferred with the Water company concerning the situation and the company said that as soon as a State street line break was remedied, conditions would be remedied by a contractor engaged by the company in North Mercer street.

Councilman Albert Hoyland who lives along the city side of North Mercer street, said the ditches were plugged and water flows down the center of the street. He called it a "sloppy job."

Councilman Richard I. Davis said he was willing to do anything possible to help alleviate the alleged unsafe condition.

Upon the suggestion of Mayor John F. Haven, Councilman Schweinsberg offered a motion, allowing the Water company until next Monday to remedy the condition, otherwise the city will open the ditches and charge the cost to the company. The motion was adopted unanimously.

May Set Date For Dawson To Give Testimony

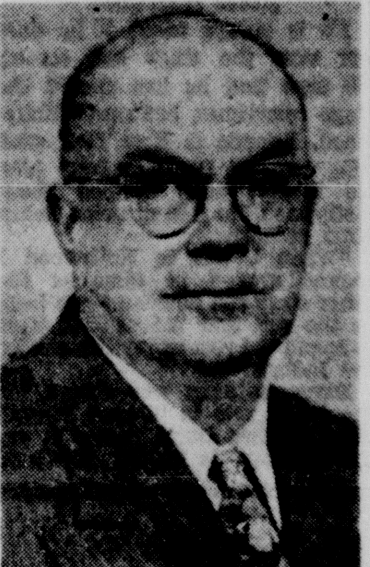

By CHARLES B. SEIB (U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 24. — Senate probes are drafting a letter today to presidential aide Donald Dawson telling him his testimony is necessary to complete the story of influence operations in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.
It was learned that the strongly worded letter would probably set a date—possibly late next week—at which Dawson will be expected to come before the Fulbright subcommittee and reply to charges that he was a key figure in a government loan "influence ring."
Patronage Adviser
Dawson, who holds the politically potent job of patronage adviser to President Truman, has ignored a written invitation to appear. For this reason Chairman Fulbright (D Ark., plans to put the new request in tougher terms, although he does not intend to issue a subpoena for the presidential confidant.
Senators on the subcommittee—particularly Republicans Bricker, Ohio, and Capehart, Ind.—have been clamoring for Dawson's appearance ever since the public hearings on RFC influence, politics and favoritism.
Testimony tied Dawson closely to Merl Young, husband of a recently resigned White House stenographer, and RFC Directors

Walter Dunham and William Willett. Young has been accused of influence peddling and the subcommittee charged Dunham and Willett with cooperating willingly with the pressure operators.

J. C. Kennedy Is Candidate

Seeks Nomination For Commissioner

J. C. KENNEDY
J. C. Kennedy of Shenango township, well-known carpenter, today announced his intention of seeking the Republican nomination for county commissioner at the Republican primary Tuesday, July 24. His statement follows: "I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner for two reasons: First, I believe the eastern and southern part of Lawrence county is entitled to representation in the commissioners' office, and secondly, I believe labor should have a voice in the commissioners' office."
"I have been a resident of Lawrence county all my life and for 12 years was a road supervisor of Shenango township. Over the years I have followed my trade as a carpenter and am a member of the carpenters' union."
"As a road supervisor of Shenango township I took part in the Supervisors' association and was a delegate to the 1937 convention in Philadelphia which believed home rule should be established in the political sub-divisions of Pennsylvania."
"Along with other men of Shenango township, I aided in forming the township volunteer fire department."
"As a resident of the rural districts and as a laboring man I believe I know the problems of the farmer, the laborer and the small business man. If nominated and elected I expect to work towards the end that Lawrence county may get the best government possible within our financial means."

A. and 15 ways to kill a P. T. A., the latter being on the humorous side yet stating actual facts. Her talk was closed with a discussion on what we want for America's children.
Mrs. Sloan, school nurse, introduced Mrs. Viola Sadler, home economics supervisor at the New Castle senior high school. Mrs. Sadler spoke on the various changes in nutrition starting with the calorie era, the mineral, the vitamin and the protein era. I NEVER BOUGHT STOCKS BEFORE... HOW DO I GO ABOUT IT ?

Here are some questions that people ask:

Can I choose any broker I want? You certainly can. Member firms of the New York Stock Exchange have 1,600 offices in 396 cities.

Suppose I have only $500 to invest? Whether you have $500 or $5,000 to invest, you will get courteous, intelligent attention. Handling orders for a few shares or hundreds is the day-to-day business of member firms of the Exchange.

Will I be high-pressured? Helping people invest their money is a serious business. The broker's job is to help you—not to high-pressure you—and that goes even if you just want to talk things over.

How much will the broker charge me? Nothing for information or advice. If you decide to invest, he will charge you a commission based on the price and number of shares you order. The average commission on the great majority of stock transactions on the Exchange is about one per cent.

Are women customers welcome in a brokerage office? You can count on it. Women are important investors.

Once you've decided why you want to invest—considered the risks as well as the rewards—you'll probably have specific questions of your own. Your questions will be answered simply and directly—and without charge—at any member firm of the New York Stock Exchange.

If you do become a stockholder, you'll have plenty of company. All kinds of people in all walks of life own stocks in American businesses. And millions of these people made their first purchase through Stock Exchange firms.

Says American Reds Took Orders From Red International

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(INS)—The boss of the Communist party in the United States from 1919 to 1929 told the federal subversive activities control board Monday that the American party, during that time, took its orders directly from the Communist International.

He was Benjamin Gitlow, 60-year-old New York author, who was expelled from the party in 1929 in a dispute with Joseph Stalin over the American leadership of the party.

He was the first witness in the hearings which resulted from the effort of the attorney general to force the party to register with the justice department under the McCarran anti-subversives law.

The hearing opened with an outburst from former New York congressman Vito Marcantonio who declared they were "indecent" because the board has not yet been confirmed by the senate.

After a 10-minute recess the board ruled against him and the hearing went on.

How you May Gain New Strength—Feel Younger

If you are rundown—low spirited—have sleepless nights—no energy—"nerves"—poor appetite, don't be discouraged! Chances are you are just not getting the full daily requirements of the necessary vitamins and minerals from the food you eat.

What you should do is try FERRIZAN—the new dietary supplement and reconstructive tonic. FERRIZAN not only gives you your full quota of many of the essential vitamins but also supplies the equally important iron for the blood and iodine for the ductless glands plus needed Calcium and Phosphorus.

Often in ten days you may feel the difference; your friends notice it. Back comes your appetite—you should actually feel the urge to eat. Nerves can grow steadier; work easier; you may sleep more soundly.

So why delay? Why not decide now to take FERRIZAN for 30 days and see yourself just how wonderful FERRIZAN can make you feel. Costs you only a few cents a day. Money refunded if not completely satisfied says Love & Megown.

Less Than 200 Covered Bridges Remain In State

Lawrence County Soon To Lose Two Of Seven Still Found In County

Covered wooden bridges on Pennsylvania's state highway system are joining the equally famous covered wagons of earlier years as relics of prime historic interest. Less than 200 of the old structures now remain in use for limited traffic only.

But the old bridges will not go the way of the Dodo for historical societies, civic organizations and in some instances individuals have taken steps to preserve the structures for posterity.

Lawrence county can boast of seven of the picturesque structures, although two are to be dismantled and more modern bridges built in their places.

In Lawrence County

The seven bridges are located in some of the most scenic settings in Lawrence county and a must on the list of tourists hunting for picturesque views of Lawrence county, Pennsylvania.

There has been some questioning on the number of covered bridges in Lawrence county but, count them: Neal bridge over the little Neshannock located between Wilmington junction and Fayette; Kauffman's bridge over the little Neshannock located between Wilmington junction and Neshannock Falls; Banks bridge over the Neshannock located between Neshannock Falls and Rich Hill; McConnell's Mills over the Slippery Rock river located at McConnell's Mills; Eckert's bridge which is down stream one mile from McConnell's Mills; Breakneck bridge over Jones' Run one fifth of a mile from Eckert's; Flatrock bridge over Hickory Creek located at Cleveland Mills.

'Spring Chickens' Now On Market On Year-Round Basis

HARRISBURG, April 24.—(INS)

—The seasonal nature of Pennsylvania hatchery operations today was reported lessened by a steadily-increasing production of baby chicks to be grown into broiler or fryer chickens.

The state agriculture department said this accounts for comparatively low production of chicks during March because "spring chickens" now appear on the market year-round rather than only in the summer.

Pennsylvania hatcheries produced 11,070,000 chicks in March, higher than that month's total in 1950 and 1948 but lower than every other year since 1942.

Chick production in the state totaled $23,750,000 for the first three months of 1951 compared with $24,118,000 for January-March last year.

The department also reported an extra-large volume of apples remaining in Pennsylvania storage houses on April 1, while cold storage stocks of dairy and poultry products soared to new levels.

A total of 383,000 bushels of apples were in Pennsylvania storage houses as of March 31, an advance of 91,000 over the same date last year.

Cheese and cream reflected the heaviest seasonal increases in dairy products with shell and frozen egg stocks also showing considerable advancement.

Dressed poultry stocks declined 1,856,000, the department reported leaving 9,512,000 pounds at the end of March.

Trailer Homes Are Considered

Following a suggestion presented by Mayor John F. Haven in council meeting Monday, Councilman Albert Hoyland submitted a motion, which was seconded by Councilman E. Gene Schweinsberg, and adopted unanimously, the owner of McCleary avenue land where six trailers are parked, will be required to submit a plan of his lots.

The action followed a report by Solicitor Robert White which said six trailers, now there, would be placed on foundations, giving them the status of "homes," which would allow them to be taxed.

Councilman Richard I. Davis said the trailers there are in violation of the zoning law.

The mayor said at present, they are unassessed, yet enjoy privileges taxpayers receive.

Mr. White explained the trailer-owners would pay a rental of $1,800, on 10 years lease to the owner but could remove their trailers if desired.

Council did not indicate what their final action would be relative to the reported plan of the trailer land owner.

City To Survey Hunter Property

John R. Hunter, proprietor of Hunter's Damp Laundry, South Cochran Way, appeared before council Monday and inquired as to a settlement for property allegedly taken by the new bridge which spans Neshannock creek.

The mayor said that, no doubt, the portion taken would be filled in, and no actual property would actually have been taken, but if there was, viewers would assess the damages.

However, it was decided to ascertain if any, and how much land, was taken for the abutments, and for this purpose, council adopted a motion by E. Gene Schweinsberg, which was seconded by Councilman Richard I. Davis, authorizing the city engineer to survey the abutments, and the Hunter property.

If any ground is found to have been taken, the motion authorizes a settlement with Mr. Hunter.

More than 15 per cent of the world's supply of tin is produced in Bolivia.

Due to the requests of Girl Scouts and teachers for articles on Indian lore, I trust this will cover some of the requests.

The medicine pipe used by the Indians on ceremonial occasions has no medicinal power but is an object used in prayers to the Sun and Rain God. Each pipe used has an ancient ritual and spiritual power of its own.

Chief Two Guns, the Indian pictured on the Buffalo nickel, owned one of the most ancient medicine pipes. It was called the water medicine pipe and was used in all prayers to the Sun God.

The medicine man in the Northwest tribes of Indians was called upon to do many things for the tribal members. He was kept busy when the hunters were making preparations to go on the game trails. He called the hunters to the sweat lodge, and as the hunters stood around in a circle, he flipped cold water on hot stones, causing the teepee (tent) to be filled with heavy steam that was supposed to purify the men. Then the medicine man prayed for their success while away.

Every evening so long as the hunters were away from the camp the medicine man would visit each hunter's teepee and shake a medicine rattle at the entrance and repeat the hunters' name with a prayer asking for the absent one's safe return with game.

The question of how North America acquired the Indian, and why their skin is red, has been long discussed. It has been said by many people that the Indians were descendants of Mongolians who came across the Pacific from Asia. However, nowhere in the Asiatic territory are there any people who resemble the American Indian. Many people of distinction who have delved into the history of the red man have not been able to arrive at a sound theory on the matter of his color.

March Also Shows State Relief Decline

HARRISBURG, April 24.—(INS)

—The third consecutive monthly decline in relief expenditures was registered during March when payments dropped $178,000 to $9,627,000, the State Department of Public Assistance reported today.

During March, approximately 322,000 persons received grants compared with the 486,000 in March, 1950, when payments amounted to $13,769,000.

The department said last month's total included $3,956,000 contributed by the Federal government.

Chorus To Sing Hora Novissima Sunday Evening

The Music club chorus will sing "Hora Novissima", by Horatio Parker, Sunday, April 29, at eight p. m., daylight savings time, in the First Methodist church.

Although "Hora Novissima" was written in 1892, and given in Boston in 1893, where it met with instant success, it was not until 1947 that New Castle heard it sung by the Music club chorus. It is one of the loveliest of medieval measures, written with intense force of assestic meditation and majestic power of verse.

The Music club chorus, under the direction of its able and brilliant conductor, Mrs. William J. Caldwell, is pleased to present again, after numerous requests, this beautiful, melodic achievement of the ages.

The words of "Hora Novissima" were written by Bernard De Morlaix, a Benedictine monk, who lived in the early 12th century, during Dante's time. In Latin it is known as "Rhythm on the Celestial Country". Isabella G. Parker, mother of Horatio Parker, translated this incomparable Latin verse into English and her translation is truly inspirational. "Hora Novissima" means the "Last Hour of Earth", which foretells the second coming of the Judge of All Men, the description of that country beyond compare, the Heavenly Kingdom.

Horatio Parker, who was born in Massachusetts in 1863, and died in Boston in 1944, was the first American composer to be acclaimed abroad. He wrote the magnificent music of the "Hora Novissima", the contrapuntal perfection of the oratorio ranks with Bach, who was the master of counterpoint.

From the opening chorus, "Cometh earth's latest hour, Evil hath mighty power, keep we vigil" through the superb and thrilling solos, to the massive and effective double chorus and quartets, to the final chorus, "Thou city great and high, I hail thee ever", there is a feeling that the composer has given to a man a most exalted and rapt conception of bliss beyond compare.

There is always a gratifying sense of completion and fulfillment in musical form, as Mrs. Caldwell directs the chorus. This is very true of this difficult work and the chorus has practiced hard and faithfully under her brilliant leadership.

The accompaniments, of which New Castle music lovers have never heard anything to equal, are in the very capable hands of Edwin Lewis, organist and director of the First Methodist church, at the organ, and Mrs. Richard Allen, organist and director of the First Christian church, at the piano. This presentation is sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial association.

MUGGS AND SKEETER

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

The Middle Road in Self-Regulation

For most parents, letting the baby regulate his own time for eating has worked out well. But infants differ. While the great majority will settle down to a regular routine that suits them and their families, others will be troublesome.

In the Rosenberg family the problem was a real one. Following the latest methods didn't work out. For some reason or other Junior never settled down. Both mother and father were kept on the run. They never knew when he would cry for food or when he would sleep. Finally, at their wit's end, they talked it over with the doctor.

"Perhaps," he suggested, "we'd better try a little scheduling. Let's let him cry a bit and see if we can get him on a more regular system. Of course, we don't need to overdo it. But we can feel our way."

After a week or two of trial and error, Junior began to want to eat and sleep on a more regular schedule than before. When he made too much fuss about things, the Rosenbergs let up a little. But apparently their youngster wasn't one of those who would slip into his own rhythm or eating and sleeping from a self-demand or self-regulation program. For him and for other youngsters, the middle of the road will work better.

WASH MACHINES FASTER WITH AMPLE EQUIPMENT

The average dairy farmer takes 16 minutes per day to wash one single milking machine unit, but with ample facilities could do a better job in less time.

Considerable time is required to cart water to milking machines, to cart water into units, to cart machines to and from the house to be washed, and to boil milking machine rubber in lye solutions.

The following equipment should be in the milk house: a switch to stop and start the vacuum pump, a stall cock, running hot and cold water, a two-compartment sink, a table, preferably on wheels and with a stainless steel perforated screen for a top, a cabinet for supplies, a can and utensil rack, and an electric milk cooler.

With such equipment one single milking machine unit can be cared for in about 10 to 14 minutes a day. This time includes washing the unit and the stanchion hose after each milking (two times per day.)

Use the following routine: Rinse the equipment in lukewarm water (100° F.), completely dismantle the milking machine, and soak the equipment for one-half hour in an alkaline solution at a temperature of 115° F.

After soaking, brush each part, rinse thoroughly in water at 115° F. Do not assemble, store the equipment dry. Immediately before milking assemble and sanitize.

When milking machines are cared for in the above manner, rubber will last longer, milkstone will be non-existent, better quality in milk will result, and udder trouble will be decreased.

MILKER VACUUM CAN INJURE COWS

The vacuum that operates the milking machine can do harm to the udder when there is no milk flowing through the udder to lubricate it.

A teat cup applied to the forearm when the milker is in operation will demonstrate the pull from the vacuum. The vacuum applied in this manner pulls the flood, congesting it. This congestion is harmful as well as painful. In the same way vacuum applied on the cow hurts when no milk lubricates the udder.

A managed milking routine assures the let-down of milk prior to the attachment of the milking machine. In managed milking the cow is machine-stripped at the proper time. This routine assures proper lubrication of the udder when machines are on cows.

The managed milking routine will reduce udder trouble, produce more milk, and save time.

DRY BEANS FOR PROTEIN
Dry beans are one of the high protein foods. Because the proteins in beans are not complete, that is, they do not contain all the amino acids necessary for life and growth, serve other complete proteins during the other meals of the day. Milk, cheese, meat, fish, and poultry are some of the complete protein foods that can supplement the protein in dry beans.

DEFROST HOME FREEZER WHILE CONTENTS LOW
When the food supply in your home freezer gets low, it is a good time to defrost the freezer. Do this before your fruits and vegetables. If there is about half-inch of frost over a large area, it is time to defrost. The thicker the frost, the higher are your maintenance costs.

When the freezer contains a small amount of food, you can move the packages from one section to another, then scrape off the frost. Use a broad stiff spatula, putty knife, or sharp-edged wooden paddle. Collect the frost as you scrape it on a dustpan or cardboard.

When there is ice as well as frost, completely defrost the freezer. Take out the packages and put them in your refrigerator if there is room. If you cannot find space for them, pack the food solidly in cold tubs or baskets and cover closely with one newspaper and blankets. Set the baskets in a cold place.

Disconnect the freezer and scrape off what frost you can with a stiff spatula. If the freezer has a drain, you may run cold (never hot) water over the surface to speed the melting. Take off ice with an ice pick or other sharp tool as it may damage the coils. Wipe up water as ice melts and clean the surfaces.

When the inside of the freezer is entirely clean, connect the freezer and let it run a half hour or longer before putting in the food. As you return the packages take an inventory and put the oldest packages on top.

Gen. MacArthur To Review New York Loyalty Parade

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—Hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers and visitors will get an unexpected chance to hail Gen. Douglas MacArthur a second time when he reviews the Loyalty Day parade down Fifth avenue next Saturday.

The Pacific hero let it be known yesterday that he had accepted the invitation to serve as grand reviewing officer, extended Friday by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the parade's sponsors.

The dismissed far east commander is to take his place in the reviewing stand a day after returning from the midwest.

The stand will be crowded by other notables. Commander J. Joseph Smith, who estimated last week that an estimated record 250,000 was expected for this fourth annual loyalty parade, said after the MacArthur acceptance that he would not be surprised now if there was a turnout of 750,000 in the line of March.

A committee was to call on the general today in his suite at the Waldorf-Astoria to complete details for the parade and the arrival of MacArthur at the reviewing stand.

GRANDMA RIVAL

NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—(INS)—The famous New England painter—Grandma Moses—may soon have to share some of the limelight with a 77-year-old woman from New Bedford. Mrs. Sarah Marshall, who began painting at the age of 60, recently created a four-by-eight foot mural in less than seven hours. The mural—a scene at the River Jordan—was painted on a wall at the South Baptist church in New Bedford and was unveiled during Easter.

Surrounded Battalion Is Back To Safety

By DON A. SCHANCHE
(U. S. War Correspondent)

ON WEST KOREAN FRONT, April 24.—An allied battalion—surrounded in the first stages of the new communist offensive in Korea—was back safely within friendly lines today.

The allied unit on the western front broke out of a Chinese communist encirclement north of the Imjin river where it had been trapped for 30 hours.

Bob Lasher of Rye, N. Y., a Voice of America radio correspondent, joined the battalion during the siege when he landed in a helicopter which brought medicine for the wounded allied troops.

Beat Off Attacks
Lasher said the allied soldiers beat off all enemy attacks and finally broke through yesterday to main United Nations line with the loss of only two vehicles.

Friendly tanks broke through the Chinese positions on the south bank of the river. Jet planes joined in the attack and strafed and rocketed the enemy troops. The UN unit then attacked to the east, fording the waist-deep river or racing their trucks and jeeps over the rubber pontoon bridge which the Chinese had been unable to cut.

"There was practically no loss on the breakout," said Lasher. "It was all over in 45 minutes with the Chinese pitching shells in the area in an unsuccessful attempt to stop it."

Lasher waded to safety with the battalion.

Bessemer Class To Present Play

Members of the junior class of the Bessemer high school will present "Off a Pewter Platter" Friday evening, April 27, at 8 o'clock in the school's auditorium.

The Dorns do not need to go to plays, especially comedies, as they have one running continuously in their living room. It might be called "Life with Mother," for we see Urania Dorn (Judy Swanson) gaily contaminating her household with coarseness. The disease spreads from perky old grandpa (Randall Vlah) and his typing speed tests, little brother Buddy (Frank Diana) and his soap-box derby racer, father (Phillip DeArment) and his mushroom hunting, to Aggie (Ruth Tasota) the vociferous maid with her original advertising jingles.

Even little sister Toots (Irene Lombardo) succumbs and enters a kindergarten clay-modeling contest. However, to Debbie (Rose Afagato) sixteen and social, the big contest is with her irresponsible family and she is backed up by domineering Aunt Isabel, Barbara Kilchuk.

Toots brings her imaginary playmate, invisible Junior Salad, out in the open but Debbie brings her imaginary family, as she wishes them to be, out in a dream. Grandpa is a southern colonel; mother, a poetess; farther, a big game hunter; Toots, a child movie star, and so on. Then comes Debbie's revolt.

Her frustration vents itself on every member of her family which she thinks has ruined her social life and her romantic life with popular Steven Ranes (Richard Jordan). Events finally turn the near tragedy back to a happy comedy.

Others in the cast are P.T.A. ladies, Dolores Luksetic, Shirley Sfara, Mary Ann Tricolo; sorority girls, Donna Flick, Phyllis Sackin, Theresa Mittica; radio announcer, Ronald Vlah; and photographer, Ralph Cunningham.

Written by Robert and Lillian Masters, this play is directed by Miss M. Patterson and Miss M. Shadick.

Possible Democratic Party Split Seen In Allegheny County

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—(INS)—Political observers predicted a possible split in the Allegheny county Democratic party machine today as the result of a disagreement about the candidacy of Judge Michael A. Musmanno, who wants endorsed for the State Supreme Court.

Commissioner John J. Kane, a Democrat who is up for re-election this autumn, told Mayor David L. Lawrence that Musmanno, a common pleas court jurist, should be endorsed for the post. Lawrence admitted disagreeing with Kane, but refused further comment. It is believed he favors endorsement of Supreme Court Justice Grover C. Ladner, a Democrat who is serving by appointment of former Gov. James Duff and seeks a full term.

Kane said he doesn't know Justice Ladner from "a keg of nails" and would "rather be for somebody that I know." What he didn't mention was that Musmanno led all Democratic party candidates in vote total during the last general election in Allegheny county and would be a valuable vote-getter on the Kane ticket.

Musmanno then was seeking the post of lieutenant-governor.

Because there are two vacancies on the high court, and the voters under the state constitution vote for one, the holder of a majority party nomination is assured of election.

All persons interested in the art exhibit are invited to attend. It is the second annual exhibit of the pupils of the school.

Today's Fashion Flash

HONOLULU, April 24.—(INS)—A fine cashmere sweater should never be discarded because it has met with moths.

Barbara and Patricia White, youthful proprietors of Honolulu's exclusive "Barpa" Shop, say: "Cover the destruction with distinction."

The Whites, girl designers, made their fashion reputations in 1949 by dressing up cashmere cardigans with beads, pearls, tiny seashells and appliques of pique fabric.

The trimmery was sewn onto the cashmere around the neck, sleeves or ribbing.

Of course, the Whites designed their trimming in Hawaiian motifs. But for economical "Mainlanders" they suggest that any simple decoration will do the cover-up job with chic.

Mrs. Anna Lavergne, Church Point, Louisiana: "You don't know how wonderful it feels to be in such good condition—after feeling run-down. I had a very poor appetite—in fact, food didn't agree with me at all. I had a hard time sleeping nights . . . sometimes I would stay awake until one or two in the morning and then the next day I would feel tired and groggy all day long. You have no idea how terrible I felt. Now all this is gone . . . yes, now that I have been taking HADACOL, I feel wonderful. I get lots of good, sound sleep, have a fine appetite and just lots of energy. I can eat any kind of food now and it doesn't bother me a bit. I just can't begin to thank HADACOL."

F. W. Horton, 108 74th Ave., Houston, Texas, says about his little son: "Lee was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eats real well now, and has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

Richard Krabill, 3118 Murfield Road, Toledo 14, Ohio: "I am an apprentice pharmacist and I go to the University of Toledo. Going to school and working until 9:30 gets pretty tiresome. I was getting tired and run-down keeping pace with all I had to do. Being married and having a family, I am compelled to work after school. I work in a pharmacy here in Toledo. After selling HADACOL in the store, I decided I'd try it. You have no idea how much it has picked me up. I'm telling you truthfully. HADACOL is the answer to all my tiredness from sitting up late at night doing homework after I come home from work. Already I have won customers on HADACOL. I am 31 and a veteran of World War II."

HADACOL CAN HELP YOU . . .

Attorney Retained By Rita Hayworth

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—Attorney Bartley Crum said Monday that he has been "retained" by Rita Hayworth but he declined to confirm or deny that the actress wife of Prince Aly Khan wants a divorce.

Miss Hayworth has repeatedly denied that she wants a separation or a divorce, or that she and Aly are anything but a happy, contented couple.

The actress could not be reached for comment on the latest reports, but Crum told International News Service:

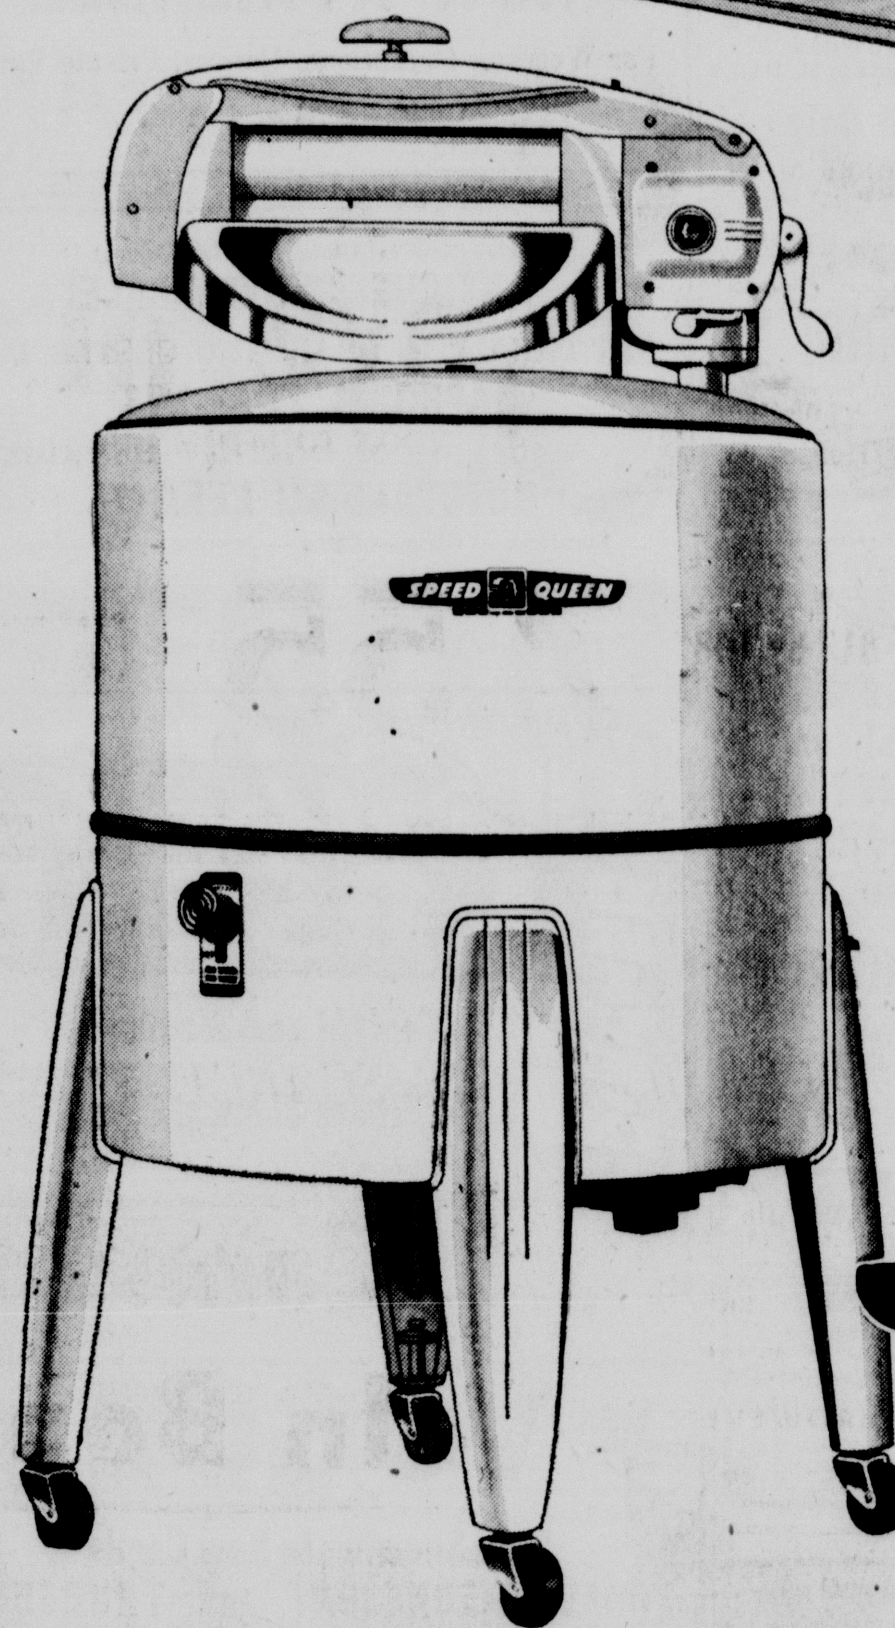

"It is true I have been retained by Miss Hayworth. I can say nothing more."

The lawyer then was asked:

"Will you give a yes or no answer to reports that you have been retained to start divorce action for Miss Hayworth?"

"I can say no more than I have," said the attorney.

Britishers To Get More Meat Soon; But At Higher Prices

LONDON, April 24.—(INS)—Ration-starved Britishers can look forward today to buying more meat in the near future, but at higher prices.

The Treasury announced that Britain has signed a new agreement for the purchase of meat from Argentina. A government spokesman commented that the "meat will flow freely very soon," but prices are expected to be higher.

Some government quarters were less optimistic over the availability of meat. They pointed out there probably will be a slight increase in meat rations within a few weeks but there could be no big boost before August because of the necessity of building up reduced stocks.

It is estimated meat prices will be up an average of three and one-half cents a pound because of the higher price the British must pay for Argentine meat.

It was a boost in price by the Argentine government that originally deadlocked the labor government's negotiations for meat.

Harmony Native Is Given Honor

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Directors of the Austin company and a small group of the company's old employees last night honored Harold A. Hallstein for forty years of outstanding service to the company, which he joined as a tool boy at Warren, Ohio, in April, 1911 and now serves as executive vice president and assistant general manager.

Hallstein, whose first real responsibilities were in connection with the big Cleveland Lamp Works—then known as Nelite—where he was a cost clerk, time-keeper, and later a labor foreman, became the company's general auditor in 1926. He was elected a vice president in 1935, a director in 1937, and executive vice president in 1947.

Mr. Hallstein is a native of Harmony, Pa.

Pricing Chart Deadline April 30

Eben L. Reid, executive vice president of the Greater New Castle Association, today called the attention of retailers to the pricing chart deadline, April 30. The deadline will probably not be extended, he said.

Information from the OPS is that a number of omissions and misinterpretations are apparent in returns made thus far. Retailers are urged to note these points in compiling pricing charts for their stores.

1. Retailers are not showing the type of store in the charts. "This is important for us because in checking the charts, we have to know what type of store they represent. For example department stores have different markups than specialty stores."

2. They are not showing the volume of total sales. This is required by the order.

3. They are not listing costs with the lowest cost first and then running consecutively down to the highest.

4. Some people think all they have to do is file public form No. 3. This is not a pricing chart.

5. Some are forgetting to put in category numbers.

6. They are failing to number pages. "We want to know what a man claims the number of pages are in his chart when we check it."

7. In final column they are failing to show supporting invoice number. The invoice is required since the regulation provides that the supporting invoice should be identified in column 5.

8. Some retailers are failing to have an officer of the firm or a department head or anybody else responsible for the chart sign it. They are merely writing in the trade name of the firm.

Council Adopts Four Ordinances

Council convened Monday in City hall and adopted four ordinances, as follows:

Approving and establishing grade, drainage structures and all other structures on the State highway department plan for improving Butler avenue between a point 490 feet, east, from the center line of Paul street, and a point 190 feet east of Cascade street, and also for the removal of structures not needed.

Locating and re-establishing Winter avenue from Wilmington avenue to Locust street and, also from Jefferson street to Wilmington avenue. A grade was established between Wilmington avenue and Locust street in 1928. It has a sanitary sewer, and has been opened and ordered. It will be 60 feet wide. Concerning the section between Jefferson street and Wilmington avenue, it will be a 50 foot width. The ordinances also establishes a grade.

The fourth ordinance amends an ordinance which establishes and ordains Lincoln avenue, a 50 foot street, between Shenango street and Cuba street, and Cuba street, a 50 foot street, between Lincoln avenue and Wick street. It provides for the opening of these streets between the said points at a grade to be established, the same to be reduced to grade and paved. The cost will be levied on the abutting property owners according to the foot front rule.

Favors Paving Of Wilson Avenue

Adolf De Gennaro, Wilson avenue, appeared before city council Monday, and complained not only of the condition of Wilson avenue, but some other streets, after which he presented a petition which asked that Wilson avenue be paved. Council said before this could be done, at least 90 percent of the property-owners must sign for the requested improvement. He withdrew the petition and will attempt to obtain signatures to this amount.

In speaking to council De Gennaro said autos had been damaged due to the condition of Wilson avenue, which is rapidly building up.

Owner after owner...Year after year-says

"IT'S DODGE FOR DEPENDABILITY"

You could pay up to $1,000 more and still not get all the extra room, riding comfort and rugged dependability of Dodge.

TAKE THE WORD of owners who know Dodge value and dependability from actual experience. "No major repairs in four years' driving" . . . "After driving another make less than a year, I'm back with Dodge again" . . . "Driven my Dodge 150,000 miles and it's still going strong." These are not unusual comments we receive from Dodge owners coast-to-coast. Dodge dependability starts with a heavy, rugged frame, a "Get-Away" engine "speed-proofed" to resist wear, designed to be a miser on gas. There's a safe, rigid, all-steel body, rubber-mounted to eliminate rattle and squeak.

New Safer, Smoother Ride

Dodge Onflow Shock Absorbers "float" you over roads that stop other cars, cushion vital chassis parts against road shocks . . . make them last years longer.

And with this traditional Dodge quality of dependability goes extra headroom, leg room, elbow room found in no other car . . . "Watchtower" visibility in every direction. Longer lasting, smooth acting Safe-Guard Hydraulic Brakes make every mile you travel safer, more relaxed.

Come in Today

So take five minutes to check Dodge dependability in long life, in extra comfort and safety, in low-cost maintenance and gas economy. It will be the most profitable five minutes you ever spent.

—says Harry H. Hurst
Houston, Texas

"NO MAJOR REPAIRS IN 4 YEARS"

"In my business, I really depend on my car. That's why I'm for Dodge. My Dodge is always ready to go—so dependable I've had no major repairs in four years' driving. It's a real money saver for repairs."

Rotary Hears Dr. Creighton

China's Problems Discussed Monday

Dr. J. W. Creighton, head of the history department at Westminster college, was the guest speaker of New Castle Rotary club at its noon luncheon meeting in The Castle-ton Monday, when he spoke on "China Today".

Dr. Creighton quoted some of the outstanding authorities on Asiatic problems in his talk and gave his hearers a new insight into the many of the problems which would face because of the present thinking of the oriental mind today.

Asia Has Three Parts

Asia, he stated, can be divided roughly into three sections, the southeast section, which contains the Mongolian nations, including the Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, Koreans and inhabitants of the East Indies.

In the western section are the Arabs and other Semitic types, while in between are the inhabitants of India, of the Indo-European type.

India, he stated, separates yet unites these two sections and acts as their interpreter and mediator. If successful in keeping these peoples united, India could serve as a great influence against the encroachment of the communists from above.

Here in this area can be found two-thirds of the world's population in an undeveloped stage, a semi-colonial stage. Yet despite their backwardness, some of these countries have developed some great men.

Land Problem Acute

Asia, and China in particular, has a great land problem. Nationalist China failed to solve this problem, and he stated, Red China is most likely to fail, because there is just not enough land for the inhabitants to raise a living from. The average farm in China is only three acres and not all of it is arable. Most of the people, who are farmers, are trying to wrest a living from seven-eighths of an acre and taxes range from 50 to 66 per cent of the tenant farmer's income. In such a situation no political party can succeed, he stated.

The Reds have distributed the land, taking it from the wealthy landowners and sharing it with the former owners on an equality basis, but this has resulted in each individual having but seven-eighths of an acre. It hasn't been enough to make any difference, he stated.

When the Reds first came in they attracted the student class, but now they have seen their parents lose their holdings, they have no jobs and they are disgruntled and disgusted with the utter futility of the Red scheme.

Income Is Small

The average income in the United States is $1,400 per person, but in Asia the average income is from $40 to $60 per person, and they have no economic happiness.

Russia, he said, has cried out against encirclement, but they have their own policy, the encirclement of capital. What the Asians need is encirclement of economic security.

In viewing the change of Asia's economic and political thought one has only to look at the changes which have occurred during the past 50 years to realize that Asia is on the march, emerging from a colonial status to independence.

Any leader who accepts aid from the outside is discredited in the eyes of the people, Dr. Creighton stated, but aid is accepted from Russia because Russia is looked upon as being Asiatic, rather than European.

The only way a program of aid to Asia can be brought about, he felt, was through the United Nations, where these people have representation. Our foreign policy should be based on need, rather than expediency, he stated. If we are going to have success in Asia it must be done by bringing understanding between peoples, rather than states.

Dr. Creighton knows a great deal about the oriental trend of thought, having spent 21 years there himself, and his talk proved of timely interest.

SHENANGO P.T.A.
Shenango Parents Teachers Association held their April meeting in the high school auditorium. The program opened with several numbers which were used at the Forensic contest.

The sophomore girls' trio was first with two selections. Bob Kwiat, boy tenor, sang "They Called it Ireland" and "Lullabye and Goodnight." Mrs. Balick accompanied all numbers at the piano.

Mrs. Abner DeChant, president, introduced Mrs. Steven Kleckner who in turn introduced Mr. Rashid who acted as moderator throughout the meeting.

Rabbi Iwan Gruen was the first speaker using the topic of the evening, "The Spiritual and Moral Guidance of Our Children." His remarks were based on the "Ideals of Our Grandfathers."

Father Stancelwski followed up the same theme with the statement that we need to bring back love, honor and respect within the home. "A God fearing home is what we need," he stated.

Rev. A. E. Simon brought out the fact that "A Christian Home with Christian Parents" will lay a foundation for our children and set a fine example for future generations.

Following this a general discussion and answer period took place. At the regular business meeting the following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Elmer Hutton; first vice president, Mrs. DeChant; second vice president, Mrs. Willets; financial secretary, Mrs. Winifred Koski; treasurer, Mrs. James Conway; secretary, Mrs. Clyde Dougherty. Tempting lunch was served by the ladies of the Frew Mill road. Next meeting will be held Thursday, May 17.

Supreme Court Refuses To Save Convicted Nazis

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(INS)—The Supreme court on Monday refused to save seven top Nazis from the gallows for war crimes convictions in a U. S. military tribunal.

Justices Black and Douglas noted in the 6-2 decision, however, that they believed the SSS Elite Guard officers should be given a hearing.

Justice Jackson, American judge in the earlier Nuremberg trials, excused himself from the court's deliberation.

Lawyers for the seven, who have won many delays in the executions, based their plea on a claim that the United States is no longer at war with western Germany, where the men are held.

Glass Breakers Improve Same

TOLEDO, O.—(INS)—A group of men in Toledo breaks $30,000 of glass a year, but never gets in trouble about it.

In fact, these men, technicians at the Libbey-Owens-Ford research laboratories, win awards for their contributions to better vision and more comfortable living.

Actually, there seemingly destructive acts are constructive. If they did not intentionally smash all kinds of glass by dropping steel balls on it, bashing it with hammers and exposing it to thermal shock, more would be broken unintentionally by others.

For example, many years of strenuous testing helped develop the safety glass used for protection in automobiles. Additional years were spent developing the metal-to-glass seal now used in double-pane insulating windows to make sure no moisture infiltrates and causes fogging.

And how did the engineers decide a Tuf-flex door could stand the heat of a roasting oven? They tested it with white-hot molten lead after pelting it with buckshot and bowling balls.

This year the Erie is celebrating its 100th anniversary of the arrival of the first train which officially opened the railroad between Piermont, N. Y., on the Hudson River and Dunkirk, N. Y., on Lake Erie. The original New York and Erie Railroad was the first railroad to link the Great Lakes with the Sea!

We've been building and growing during these 100 years, always trying to do better year after year. The Erie has expanded with America, serving its many communities along 2200 miles of railroad between New York and Chicago. As the Erie has grown and prospered, so have the communities, each contributing to the well being of the other.

For instance, last year the Erie paid out over $77,000,000 in wages to Erie employees in this and other communities. In addition, the vast amount of supplies needed to run the railroad was purchased in many of these same communities, adding to local prosperity.

All this results from Erie's prime job of providing safe, dependable transportation—moving the products of industry by bringing in raw materials and shipping finished goods.

Erie's progressive railroading is a definite asset in serving your community—one of the reasons why we want to make every year a good year!

Dodgers Defeat Braves 2-1 In 16-Innings; Pirates Edged By Cubs

Furillo-Pafko Break Up Games

Phils Bump Giants, Yankees Top Macks

By HOWARD SIGMUND (L. N. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Carl Furillo and Andy Pafko are proving to be a couple of handy guys to have around in the early stages of the National League race.

The outfielders have been important clutch men in the past couple of days and are largely responsible for the Brooklyn Dodgers and Chicago Cubs being 1-2 in the week-old campaign.

Furillo, who has managed only three hits in 27 at-bats, has made two of them "big ones." Sunday he broke up a game with the Giants with a tenth-inning homer and yesterday he drove home a run in the 16th inning which gave the Dodgers a 2 to 1 victory over the Boston Braves.

Pafko, Chicago's handy Andy, delivered a double in the ninth inning yesterday that gave the Braves a 2 to 1 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Pafko chipped in Sunday with a pair of homers that twice brought the Cubs from behind in their triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Phils Thump Giants

The Philadelphia Phillies handed the New York Giants a double black eye in a night game. The Phils handed the Giants their fifth straight defeat as they turned them back 8 to 4 and they made Jim Hearn their victim.

Harry "The Cat" Brecheen exhibited some of his old form as he pitched the St. Louis Cardinals to a 2 to 1 victory over the hapless Cincinnati Reds.

Yanks Trim Macks

In the American League, Vic Raschi showed he is still master of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The New York righthander made it seventeen lifetime wins against only two losses against the Philadelphia Athletics as he pitched the champions to a six-hit, 5 to 4 win.

The Yankees, paced by rookie Mickey Mantle's three safeties, clubbed Lou Brissie and Hank Wyse for thirteen hits.

Tigers Top Braves

Home runs paved the way for the Detroit Tigers as they downed the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 4, in a three-run smash by Vic Wertz in the ninth inning broke a 4 to 4 tie and ended the game.

The other American League teams were not scheduled.

Roy Hartsfield and Johnny Logan, the crack second base duo who set an American Association double play record two seasons ago, may cavort side by side for the Boston Braves this year.

Uncle Miltie May Not Run In Derby

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—The Kentucky Derby status of Uncle Miltie won't be decided until at least the end of the week.

Owner Joseph J. Colando and his son, Andy, the horse's trainer, said today they wanted additional time to see whether the three-year-old winter book favorite will be fit for the run for the roses.

Uncle Miltie was a big disappointment in the Experimental No. 2 and the Wood Memorial after he outran Battifield and Big Stretch in a six furlong outing.

Discuss Plans At YMCA For Local Softball Opening

City softball officials and team managers met last night at the YMCA to follow up plans for the approaching league play.

The league will open May 1, and the following fields are assigned: Ross-Morelli, Gaston Park; A. F. L. 261, Cascade street; Bosser, Lehigh field; Shadyside, Dean Park; Lepores, Progressive; Scott-Pontiac, Rose avenue.

The East Side Shamrocks of last year will play under Scotts this year. Opening day schedule will be announced April 30 in the YMCA.

Diamond Dust

BESSEMER TO WORKOUT

The Bessemer Cementers of the City Baseball League will have a workout, their first of the 1951 season Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the Bessemer high field, it was announced by Manager Jim Martin. All players are asked to be prompt in reporting.

PRACTICE EVERY DAY

Fees will practice every evening at their new grounds at Rebecca and McClelland avenue.

UNIVERSALS IN ACTION

Universal A. A. will practice this evening at Washington field. All 1950 players and candidates are requested to report. The U's will play a practice game Sunday.

SCOTTS ORGANIZE

Scots of the City Softball league, formerly the East Side Shamrocks, will have daily practices at the Rose avenue field at 5:30.

The following players are asked to report: Hawkins, Sines, Jenkins, Kendra, Lane, Richards, Morgan, Bailey, Gociano, Ferrari, Bertucci, Henderson, Janaceo, Cuscino, Lipposky, Benyon and DiGiacomo.

Any other players wishing try-outs are asked to report to Rose avenue field, it was announced by business manager Bob Nesbit.

BOMBERS TO PRACTICE

DeCarbo Bombers baseball team will practice tonight at Patton field at 6 o'clock, it is announced by manager Carm DeLeone. Last year's players and any new players wishing to play should attend the practice session.

SHADYSIDE TO PRACTICE

Shadyside softball team will practice tonight at Dean park at 5:30. It is announced by Nick George. The Shadyside team has withdrawn for the City Softball League, it is reported, because of loss of key players.

TEAMSTER'S TO PRACTICE

Teamster's Local No. 261 softball team will have a practice this evening at 5:30 o'clock at the Cascade street field. All players are to be present, for an important matter will be discussed after practice.

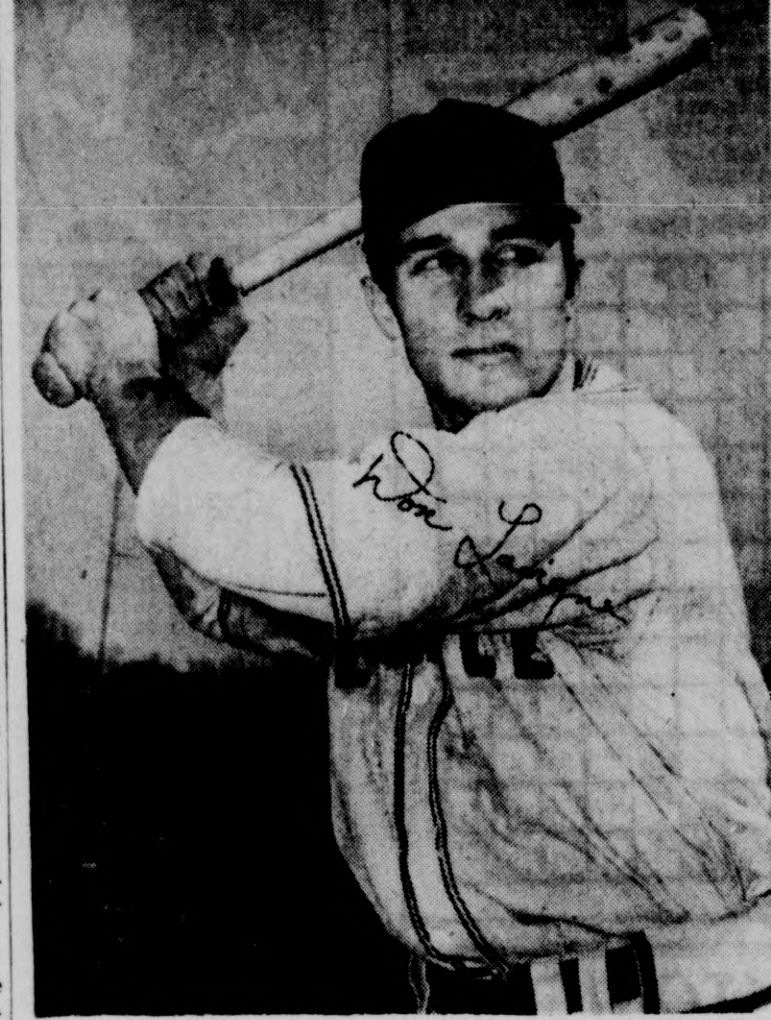

SPORT SHORTS

Last season, the pitching of Sal Maglie, Jim Hearn and Larry Jensen was a big factor in New York's third place finish. This trio was away up front in pitching effectiveness with Hearn and Maglie finishing 1-2 in the league. Maglie, the bullpen refugee, was a pleasant surprise as he ended up with an 18-4 record, best in the senior circuit, while Hearn, who came to the Giants from St. Louis for a meager $10,000, won 11 and lost 4.

Every year about this time the experts give their reasons why the Yankees can't repeat as American League champions. Then the same experts spend the rest of the year explaining how the New Yorkers did it.

Stengel claims that his team could use another starting pitcher "to make up for the loss of Ed Ford."

Meet The Indians

DONALD LAVIGNE, CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.—Slated to play the center-field spot for the New Castle Indians this year, Lavigne broke into organized baseball in 1948 with New River in the Class D Appalachian league, moved the next year to Wytheville in the Class D Blue Ridge league, and in 1950 was picked up by the Athletics and sent to the West Palm Beach club of the Florida International league, later being transferred to Youngstown and in mid-season was sold to Johnstown.

Lavigne an infielder during the first two years and part of last year, was used in centerfield by Johnstown and immediately "took fire", not only turning out to be a capable fly-chaser, but a hitter as well, finishing with 320 and hitting 25 home runs to lead the Mid-Atlantic league. In 1948 he hit 299, and in 1949 hit 309.

His biggest thrill in baseball came last year at Johnstown in a twin-bill with Niagara Falls—hitting three homers and two doubles in five straight trips to the plate, for a total of 18 bases. Manager Al Milnar has high hopes that the personable young 22-year old star can duplicate his feats this year.

(Watch for another in the "Meet the Indians Series" tomorrow.)

Stockholders And Directors Of Indians Meet Wednesday

An important meeting of the stockholders and directors of the New Castle Indians will be held at the Hotel New Penn at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, it was announced today by president Al Scarazzo.

There are several pressing matters to be taken up for discussion and for action. Tickets for the opening game Sunday, May 6, will be placed in the hands of all stockholders and directors.

Tremendous Job

An intensive drive is being made to have at least 3,000 at the opening league game against Niagara Falls. Business manager Jack Lewis has done a tremendous ticket promotion job to date and is pushing the sales to the utmost.

All of New Castle is talking about the new Indians. On every street corner, in every business house and factory, the talk is baseball and the Indians. Never has a city been so excited about a baseball club.

Squad Works Like Trojans

Working like Trojans at Flaherty Memorial Field each day is manager Al Milnar and his 20 or so squad of players. By the time the bell rings the Indians will be ready.

Milnar has not decided on any starting lineup as yet, but getting the attention right now are Chet Butler at third, Joe Frisina at short, Bill Green at second and Steve Magula and Ted Toles at first. In the outfield Walt Kowalski is in left, Don Lavigne in center, and Rudy Johnston and Gene Bilo in right. New Castle can field nine veterans this year if need be. Ten is the veteran limit.

Green is a limited service player, Bilo limited service, and Johnston and Toles, both young negroes, are rookies.

Good Pitching Staff

The Indians hurling this year will be taken care of by three veterans—Bill Ciske, Stan Zedalis and Ben Rossman, with three rookies likely to stick around—either Joe Miskiewicz, Steve Sheronovich, Lee Bickel or John Domenick.

Milnar is getting his valuable left arm in shape and will make his appearance on the mound this year he has hinted. Ted Toles is a left-handed pitcher also, and may get a shot at the hurling department.

Horne Will Catch

The catching this year is in capable hands—Bill Horne, a veteran who caught for the Senators last year is back and working hard, with Bernie Sakanich, 19, a rookie catcher making a big impression on Manager Milnar.

The first game here is only a week away, the Indians being slated to meet the Jamestown, N. Y., team of the Class D Pony League at Flaherty Field Wednesday night, May 2 at 8 o'clock in an exhibition battle. The league will open at Butler Thursday, May 3, and the league opener at New Castle is Sunday, May 6 with Niagara Falls.

Ex-LIU Star Faces Hearing

Hunt Another In Floor Fix

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS)—Former LIU star Jackie Goldsmith faces a hearing on bribery charges today while police conduct a 14-state hunt for one of his accused basketball-fixing cohorts.

Goldsmith, 18th past and present player arrested in the hoop scandal, was indicted yesterday. Named with the pint-sized shooting artist was ex-convict William Rivlin, a convicted briber who "disappeared" when the scandal broke.

Rivlin was one of the four men who pleaded guilty to trying to bribe ex-George Washington player David Shapiro to dump a game against Manhattan in 1949. He served a year in jail. The fix attempt failed when Shapiro went to police and a trap was set for the would-be bribers.

Goldsmith is charged with giving a $3,500 bribe offer to LIU players Ed Gard, Nat Miller, Lou Lipman, and Dick Feurtado to "throw" a game with Duquesne on New Year's Day, 1949. Duquesne won, 64-55.

Schedule League

Umpire's Meeting

Lawrence County Softball Umpires association will meet tonight at the YMCA at eight o'clock, it was announced today by association president Bird Riley.

This is the final meeting before the league opens on May 1.

The following men are asked to report to this meeting: Jim Abraham, Ray Campoli, Tony Dely, Frank Colella, Ed Jacobs, Vince Rechek, Scappy Richards, Charles Sallie, Lundy Aven, Tippy Richards, Doc Palmer, Ed Sesko, Sam Copple, Hub Riley, Frank Lagana and Bird Riley.

The shadow of Boudreau looms over three Indian players—Pitchers Sam Zoldak and Steve Gromek and Outfielder Allie Clark. These three, who were consigned to Boudreau's doghouse while he was manager, could make the difference this season under new manager Al Lopez. Zoldak, the $100,000 pitcher from St. Louis, sums up their feeling: "With Lopez I'll get more of a chance. It's great to know that."

There are numerous titular racing matches for fandon this year, first among them: Detroit would like Bratton, Charles-Walcott and Charles-Louis. Los Angeles is to stage a Joe Louis-Lee Savold fight June 13. City Baseball league teams are practicing every evening. There are 320,120 members who belong to the American Bowling Congress. Dick Olthoff, bowling in the Mt. Olive, Ill., league, had an odd experience. Just as Dick threw his ball, another ball came back up the return, jumped the rack and onto Dick's alley. The two balls collided but Dick's continued on its way right into the 1-3 pocket for a strike. Breaking into the harness racing spot recently was Leonard Buck of Far Hills, N. J., in partnership with Grand Circuit President Octave Blake. Buck paid out $30,000 for the three-year-old pacing mare, Barbara Direct, a daughter of the world's champion Harness horse, Billy Direct. A year ago Barbara Direct took a record of 2:00 4-5 and has been tabbed certain as a two-minute performer. Del Cameron will handle Barbara Direct. Appears as thought the Harbor, along the Shenango river, is a popular place for fishing from a boat, despite the fact there are no trout in the stream. Harold Sewall is back from a week's trout fishing in the mountains where he had excellent luck with brook trout, practically all of which he returned to the stream. He also says he caught some brownies. Harold found the streams high, fast, yet clear, and very few fishermen.

MOOSE BOWLERS Fete Thursday

All members of the Moose City and Duckport Leagues will banquet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Moose temple, according to Eddie Van Dusen.

Cincinnati has opened on its home grounds each year since the National League was formed. Because of the opening day tradition that exists in Cincinnati, the Reds are permitted to continue opening at home each season. Other cities rotate their home openings.
